Now available, what is considered the only book offered with an up-to-date, integrated analysis of economic theory and legal doctrine in the context of Canadian competition policy. This offering is a unique cross-disciplinary approach to scholarship in law and economics.

Each topic is organized around a discussion of the relevant economic theory and legal doctrine, including case law. Each chapter contains a critique of existing law in light of contemporary economic theory.

The topics include Canadian competition policy in a historical context, basic economic concepts, multi-firm conduct, horizontal agreements, the merger review process, predatory pricing and price discrimination, vertical restraints, intra-brand competition, inter-brand competition, abuse of dominance, competition policy and intellectual property rights, competition policy and trade policy, competition policy and regulated industries, and enforcement.

This book is available through the University of Toronto Press by calling 1-800-565-9523 or faxing 1-800-221-9985.
